Numb. 4500

The Daily Courant.

Friday, March 23. 1716.

Paris, March 21.

YEsterday was Registered in Parliament the Declaration of the King, concerning those that are to be brought before the new Chamber of Justice, and the Rules of Proceeding to be observed in that Chamber; Which bare date the 17th Instant, and contains in substance, viz. 1. All Officers having Jurisdiction, are commanded to publish this Declaration, and the Edict for erecting this Chamber, in their respective Jurisdictions, that all Persons may know it who have Complaints to make against any Officers of the Finances, Officers accountable, Treasurers, Contractors, Sub-Contractors, and People of such Gentlemen, their Co-Partners and Assistants, Receivers, Collectors, Commissaries and Overseers, or others, who have been employed and acted, as well in the Overseeing and Direction of the several Taxes and the Monies in the publick Receipts, as other ordinary Revenues, Contracts, Sub-Contracts, Undertakings and Bargains for furnishing Provisions to the Troops and Hospitals, the Etapes or Provision to the Soldiers upon their March, Forage, Artillery, Ammunition and Provisions for the Towns, and for the Armies, both by Land and Sea; and against all other Persons of what Condition and Quality soever they be, for the cause of Peculat, Concussion, Extortion, Misdemeanor and Abuse committed, as well in the Recovery, Overseeing and Managing, as in the Employment and Distribution of the Publick Money, whether by supposititious Names, Compositions, Guifts, Adjucations at low Price, and Monopoly, double Acquittances, &c. and likewise by the Negociating [or Discounting] of Bills for publick Payments which were current or otherwise; and in general, for the cause of all Crimes, Offences, and Abuses, committed in Prejudice to the Finance since the 1st of January 1689. That all such Complainants may come and have full Liberty to exhibit their Complaints to the said Chamber; or if they will not appear in it, to send to the Procureur-General the discovery of Misdemeanors, with all Papers and Instruments belonging thereunto. 2. For the Security of such Persons, the King takes them into his Protection, and forbids all Persons to hinder or intimidate them by Threats or otherwise, on pain of Death. 3. All Officers of Justice, being required by the Parties concerned, are commanded to inform of the said Crimes and Abuses against all sorts of Persons, and seize those who shall appear culpable, together with their Books Papers and Accompts, and send them immediately to the said Chamber. 4. All Witnesses are obliged to appear at the first Summons, on pain of forfeiting 500 Livres for the first Offence, and 1000 Livres for the second; Or if incapable of paying the Forfeiture, to be set in the Pillory, or suffer more grievous Punishment, according to their demerit. 5. All Justices and Officers of Courts and others are enjoyned to bring or send to the Clerks of the said Chamber within 15 Days after the publication of these Presents, the Informations Processes and Proceedings that are in their Hands concerning the said Impositions, Crimes and Offences. 6. All Ushers and Sergeants are commanded to put in Execution the Commissions and Arrets of the said Chamber immediately and without delay, upon pain of forfeiting their Places. And upon the same Penalty the Procureurs in every Court are obliged to assist in the Execution of these Presents, and to send in eight Days after the Receipt hereof, the Processes they have in their Hands to the Procureur-General of the said Chamber. 7. All Officers accountable, who have exercised their Offices, or have enjoyed them since the 1st of January 1689. whether in their own Names or under the Names of others, and have not entred into any Contracts, Undertakings, Bargains, Soccurisees, or other extraordinary Affairs, and have not made any Commerce or Negociation of bills to the detriment of the Finances, but are accused before the said Chamber for Misdemeanors committed in the Exercise of their Offices; shall be obliged to make before two Notaries a Declaration in Writing of all their Estate of what Nature soever it be, which they shall Sign and Affirm, distinguishing therein by a separate Article, the Estate that came to them by Succession, Donation, or Testament, and in another Article the rest of the Estate they possess in their own or in others Names, wherein shall be also set down all that they have given to their Children in Marriage or otherwise. 8. Those who have entered into Contracts, Sub-Contracts, Undertakings, Bargains, Societies, or other extraordinary Affairs, and those who have made a Trade of Negociation of the several Papers that have been in publick Course, to the prejudice of the Finances, are also enjoyned to make in like manner a Declaration of all the Estate they possess, and what they have given to their Children, and shall also make a Declaration, to be affirmed as above, of all the Contracts, Sub-Contracts, Undertakings, Bargains and other extraordinary Affairs they have been concerned in, either in their own Names or in the Names of others, directly or indirectly, upon the penalty of being proceeded against as guilty of Peculat, and forfeiting all their Estates: Forbidding them to go out of their Houses till they have satisfied this Article. 9. The Wives also of those comprised in the preceding Articles, who have separate Estates, are enjoyned to make an exact Declaration of all their Estates, on pain of Confiscation. 10. Those concerned in the three preceding Articles who failing in the Declaration they are mentioned, shall be condemned, the Men of them to lose and forfeit their Estates, the Women to forfeit their Estates, and other Punishment, according to the Nature of the Case. The 10th Part of such concealed Estates shall be given to the Informer. 11. If they omit in the said Declaration any one of the Contracts, Bargains, Undertakings, or extraordinary Affairs, they shall be condemned to the Confiscation of all the parts they have had, and all the Profits that belong to them in all the Contracts and other Affairs they have been concerned in, and even greater Penalties if they deserve it. 12. The Widows, Heirs and other Successors to those mentioned in the 7th Article, shall be obliged to obey the said Article, as shall also the Widows, Heirs and Successors of those mentioned in the 8th, 9th and 10th Articles, be obliged to conform to those Articles, on Pain of forfeiting all their said Successions, and the Moity of all other Estates they may possess, and even be subject to Corporal Punishment, in case of Fraud in their Declarations. 13. The Children also, and other Donatories of those comprized in the Articles above-mentioned, and are decreased, are obliged to conform to the Directions of the said Articles under the same Penalties as aforesaid. 14. And in regard that the greatest Part of those Persons mentioned above, finding themselves guilty, and foreseeing that they shall one Day be searched after, have obscured their Affairs by pious Contracts, Conveyances, and other like Acts, to render ineffectual the Confiscations that may be ordered against them, all such Acts fraudulently passed as aforesaid are declared null and void. 15. All Persons of whatsoever Quality or Condition, with whom those comprised in the foregoing Articles have lodged their Effects or Papers, are commanded to make a Declaration of it, before two Notaries, within 15 Days after the Publication hereof upon Pain of Banishment, or Whipping, or the Pillory, according to the Quality of the Persons besides a Fine, as well as Women as Men, which shall not be less than the Value of the Effects

Effects so concealed, whereof one Fifth to the Informer: And in case their Declarations are false, they shall be condemned, the Men for 3 Years to the Galleys, and the Women to Banishment for 9 Years out of the Jurisdiction of the Parliament where they lived, besides a Fine of double the Value of the Effects not declared, whereof one Fifth to the Informer.

[We must refer the rest to our next.]

London, March 23.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland, and two Mails from Flanders.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated March 28.

Christiana, March 7. We are now in better Heart than we were, for our Troops are posted on the Borders, where the Swedes intended to break in, in this Manner. 1. The Smaland Regiment of 2000 Men, by Fredericksballe, together with the Regiment of Dragoons of Oergers of 1000 Men also. 2. The Oplandish Regiment of 2000 Men, and Kruse's Regiment of Dragoons of 1200 Men, near Vinger. 3. The Aggerhuys Regiment of 1000 Men, with 2 Battallions of 500 Men each, near Basmu. And, 4. The Westerland Regiment of 2000 Men, are kept here near Christiana, to reinforce where they shall be wanted. Also at all those Place where the Enemy may probably attempt to enter, Troops are posted in such Manner as to be able to join upon the first Occasion: And the Boors have undertaken, in case of Need, to appear in Arms for defence of their Country. Moreover, there has fallen for these 2 or 3 Days past so deep a Snow, that the like has not been seen, and that is succeeded by a strong Thaw: All which must necessarily make the Enemys lay aside their Designs, and retreat with haste to their Quarters.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated March 27.

Hamburgh, March 20. The Cardinal de Schonborn is arrived at Brunswick, but there is little appearance that the other Ministers will come very soon to renew the Conferences for Peace in the North. The last Advices from the Camp before Wismar confirm, that the Scarcity is very great in that Place, and that they have already begun to eat Horse-Flesh. Those Letters add, that the Garrison will be obliged to surrender by the End of April, if they are not sooner relieved.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated March 28.

Hamburgh, March 26. The Swedes from Bahus and other Places have made an Irruption into Norway: But two Days ago we had Advice that the Danish Major-General Lutzauw had assembled 16000 Men, and that the Swedes thereupon retreated back again. Some Letters say, that the King of Sweden himself was not in that Expedition. Many Swedish Ships cruize in the East Sea, apparently to seek an Opportunity of putting Relief into Wismar: But the Danish Vice-Admiral Gabel went to Sea the 22d Instant with 20 or 12 Ships of War to hinder them. The King of Denmark is expected in Holstein to meet the Czar. And the Hanover Minister M. van Elts, is going thither also, being provided with full Powers from his Britanick Majesty, to intercede for the Liberty of the Swedish Prisoners now in Muscovy, who are Natives of the Dutchies of Bremen and Ferden.
